POLICY

Collection and Management of Personal Information

SCEI-HE collects personal information to enable it to function effectively. Any personal information collected by SCEI-HE is managed in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988.

SCEI-HE is committed to an open environment which enables the students and staff to access documents that contain their own personal information without the need to make a formal request.

SCEI-HE collects the following types of personal information:

- student records, such as enrolment, academic performance, graduation, welfare information;
- employment records, such as recruitment and appointment, leave, payroll and superannuation information, performance management and discipline;

- financial and business records;
- information technology records;
- other records such as Board and Committee membership contact and personal details.

Day to day access to the personal information of others is restricted to staff in the department that requires access e.g. Human Resources staff have access to employment records.

Personal data will also be used to assist in the provision of the following activities and services:

- education;
- employment (references, sickness records);
- support services;
- statutory, statistical and questionnaire returns;
- financial records; and
- security and crime prevention.

Use of personal information for marketing purposes

SCEI-HE may use personal information for marketing purposes including:

- the provision of information requested about the courses offered at SCEI-HE
- contacting individuals who have expressed interest in receiving information through use of direct marketing and promotional materials, including the provision of information about new courses, events, news, course enrolment periods.

SCEI-HE may request participation in surveys or questionnaires to assist in the quality assurance and improvement of its courses, processes, policies and service and to maximise the opportunities and products it offers.

Where consent has been provided, SCEI-HE may send electronic messages with updates on courses, services, events or news.

Storage and security of personal information

We store personal information in a variety of formats including on databases, in hard copy files and on personal devices, including laptop computers. The security of personal information is of paramount importance to us and we take all reasonable steps to protect the personal information we hold about misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

These steps include:

- restricting access to information on our databases on a need to know basis with different levels of security being allocated to employees based on their roles and responsibilities.
- ensuring all employees are aware that they are not to reveal or share personal passwords.
- ensuring where sensitive information is stored in hard copy files that these files are stored in lockable filing cabinets in lockable rooms. Access to these records is restricted to employees on a need to know basis.
- implementing physical security measures at our premises to prevent break-ins.
- implementing ICT security systems, policies and procedures designed to protect personal information storage on our computer networks.

- implementing human resources policies and procedures, such as email and internet usage, confidentiality and document security policies, designed to ensure that employees follow correct protocols when handling personal information.
- undertaking due diligence with respect to third party service providers who may have access to personal information, including cloud service providers, to ensure as far as practicable that they are compliant with the Australian Privacy Principles or a similar privacy regime.

Personal information we hold that is no longer needed, or required to be retained by any other laws, is destroyed in a secure manner, deleted or de-identified as appropriate.

Our website may contain links to other websites. We do not share personal information with those websites and we are not responsible for their privacy practices. Please check their privacy policies.

Release of Personal Information

SCEI-HE has in place mechanisms and normal administrative practices to handle routine requests for access to information such as academic transcripts, or for alterations to information such as changes of address.

Individuals wishing to obtain access to, or amend, information about themselves, should contact Student Administration.

The personal information of staff and students will not be released without their written consent except in the following instances:

1. where it is a matter of public record, (e.g. awards conferred);
2. where it relates to a person's SCEI (Higher Education) contact details as provided through the website;
3. where requisite information is made available to professional regulatory bodies as part of the registration requirements of those bodies (e.g. teaching regulatory bodies);
4. where a request is made in accordance with a legislative or statutory provision (e.g. requests by Centrelink for details regarding the enrolment status of students);
5. where an official written request has been received from a law enforcement agency in relation to a legal process;
6. where a legally enforceable request or direction has been received (e.g. subpoenas or writs issued by a court); or
7. where disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious threat to a person's life, health, safety or welfare, or to public health, safety or welfare.

A record of all personal information released will be kept. As advised by the Australian Privacy Principles, an individual has the right of access to documents held by SCEI-HE which contain that individual's personal information, and has the right to amend that information, if it is inaccurate, misleading, incomplete or out of date.

SCEI-HE may refuse access to documents on the grounds that there would be a substantial and unreasonable workload in identifying, locating and collating the volume of documents in question, or the personal details of others is also contained within the documents requested.

If a request for access or amendment is refused, SCEI-HE will give specific written reasons for the decision and advise the applicant of their rights to appeal against the decision.

Disclosure of Information

When required by law, the College may disclose personal information held about an individual to:

- another provider;
- government departments;
- medical practitioners;
- people providing services to the College, including specialist visiting teachers; and
- others who have been so authorised.

Where law enforcement agencies (e.g. the Police) or third parties wish to request personal information regarding a student, then this request must be submitted in writing by an authorised officer, quoting the Act or Statute under which the request is made, and addressed to the Student Administration Manager.

Where law enforcement agencies (e.g. the Police) or third parties wish to request personal information regarding a member of staff, then this request must be submitted in writing by an authorised officer, quoting the Act or Statute under which the request is made, and addressed to the Human Resources Manager.

Making Requests for Access to Personal Information

A request by a person, for access to their own personal information, must be made using the appropriate form. An applicant should obtain an application form from the Information Privacy web page and post or deliver the application to:

Student Administration
Southern Cross Education Institute (Higher Education)
155 – 161 Boundary Road
North Melbourne VIC 3051

Response to requests for access

SCEI-HE is required to acknowledge receipt of the request within 10 working days, to consult with the applicant regarding any difficulties in dealing with the request, and either grant access to the documents or provide specific written reasons for refusing access within 20 working days.

If inspection only of documents has been requested the applicant will be provided with reading facilities. At the applicant's request, the SCEI-HE will provide a copy of the documents, where possible, in the format requested.

Charges

There is no charge for access to, or amendment of, personal information. There may be charges for copies of documents or other services. Where hardship can be demonstrated these fees may be waived.

Appeal

Under the IP Act (s.25) gives members of the public a legally enforceable right to appeal against a refusal by the SCEI-HE to grant access to, or to amend, personal information.
